

Below are indicators for Global Compact Local Networks, should they want to self-assess their performance:

Indicators

(rate each indicator 1-5, 1=insignificant, 2=little, 3=adequately, 4=significant, 5=very significant)

- Indicator One: How strongly does the network contribute to increase the engagement of its participating companies (Communication on Progress reports, participation in global dialogue and global learning, participation in local dialogue and local learning, partnership projects, and solving local problems)?
- Indicator Two: How well does the network play its role as a promoter of the Global Compact at the local level, adapting universal values into local languages and cultures (events on the topic, translation of documents, website in local language, etc)?
- Indicator Three: How strongly does the network engage in global dialogues, or encourage companies to engage in global dialogues? To what extent does the network contribute to a constructive dialogue between companies and other stakeholders in the country or region, on issues important to the region, related to the ten principles, or on the topic of inclusive globalisation (number of events, size and impact)?
- Indicator Four: Does the network participate in global learning events? How significant does the network encourage "Communication on Progress" and support the development of case studies according to the GC research guidelines? How significantly does the network facilitate local and regional learning with several stakeholders involved (number of case studies and examples, other actions)?
- Indicator Five: How active and successful is the network in identifying and implementing partnership projects (number, amounts committed)?
- Indicator Six: What is the quality of the network's communication role, between its companies and other stakeholders, with other networks world-wide, with the Global Compact Office, with government and the public in a given country or region (quality of local website, frequency of updates sent to the central website, etc)?
- Indicator Seven : To what extent does the network engage new companies with the Global Compact (number per year)?
