WORKING GROUP ON THE 10TH PRINCIPLE ON TRANSPARENCY & ANTI-CORRUPTION

Fighting Corruption in the Supply Chain: The Role of Multinational Corporations (MNCs)

The Working Group on the Global Compact's 10th principle is committed to assisting participants in the implementation of the anti-corruption practices. Your frank response will greatly contribute towards the realization of this objective.

All responses will be treated confidentially.

In addition to providing responses to the following questions, please attach any additional materials that demonstrate your company's anti-corruption practices.

1. Based on your experience within your company and industry sector, what would you identify as the greatest corruption risk in the supply chain?

2. Do you think that MNCs should encourage their suppliers and subcontractors to develop policies and implement action plans to implement the tenth principle on anti-corruption?

If your response is yes, in what ways?

3. What specific tools or procedures (codes of conduct, contractual arrangements, audits, due diligence, qualification guidelines, etc.) exist within your company to combat bribery in the supply chain?

4. In your view, what are the lessons learned from the use of the tools?

5. Additional comments or suggestions, if any:

Thank you for your input.

*Response to the questionnaire and pertinent materials should be sent to:
