

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to all those who volunteered their time, effort and resources to take an active role in this meeting – to moderators, panelists and speakers and all those that prepared and reviewed case studies. Their contribution to the Learning Forum is tremendous and will not be forgotten.

We are also much obliged to the German Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development (BMZ), to the Federal Foreign Office (AA), as well as to the German Friends of the Global Compact (ABB, BASF, BAYER, SAP, Deutsche Bank, Otto, DaimlerChrysler, BMW, Gerling, Deutsche Telekom). Their kind financial support enabled us to hold the meeting free of charge for all participants and to invite academics and business leaders from developing countries all over the world.

We are especially grateful to our generous host, GTZ. Their beautiful historic building in the heart of Berlin is a perfect venue and an appropriate setting for our meeting.

Last but certainly not least, we would like to thank the good spirits behind the scenes: Ute Peters and Jörg Schindler at the GTZ in Berlin have been working tirelessly to make things happen and demonstrated great professionalism. In New York, our volunteer Roberta Darahem put in countless hours handling invitations and an abundance of other tasks with skill and patience. She'll be holding down the fort at UN Headquarters as we gather in Berlin.

To all of them and to the growing number of indefatigable supporters of the Global Compact a heartfelt "Thanks".

On behalf of the Global Compact Office,

Ellen Kallinowsky
