Making the Connection: Using the GRI G4 Guidelines to Communicate Progress on the UN Global Compact Principles
This document describes how to use the G4 Guidelines to prepare a Communication on Progress (COP) and fulfill the elements of the GC Active and GC Advanced levels of the UN Global Compact Differentiation Programme.

The UN Global Compact (Global Compact) and the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) are complementary initiatives that can help companies of all sizes, and in all locations and sectors, work towards sustainable development and transparently report progress towards this goal.

Using the GRI G4 Guidelines to Communicate Progress

GRI G4 Standard Disclosures can help fulfill COP requirements.

General Standard Disclosures:
Set the overall context for understanding organizational impacts and performance, such as an organization’s strategy, profile, governance, ethics and integrity.

Specific Standard Disclosures: G4 Aspects
Disclosures on Management Approach:
How economic, environmental and social impacts related to material Aspects are managed. Narrative information on how an organization identifies, analyzes, and responds to its actual and potential material economic, environmental and social impacts. Context for the performance reported by Indicators.

Indicators:
Qualitative/quantitative information about results or outcomes associated with the organization that is comparable and demonstrates change over time.
Spotlight on ‘In Accordance’ & Materiality

• Upon signing the Global Compact, an organization’s chief executive commits to managing and reporting on four issue areas: human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption.

These issues are material in a COP.

• Reporting ‘in accordance’ with G4 focuses on the process of identifying material Aspects, including but not limited to the Global Compact’s issue areas.

Therefore:

- Both G4 ‘in accordance’ options – Core and Comprehensive - could qualify as a GC Advanced COP, but not all comprehensive GRI reports will automatically qualify as GC Advanced COPs.
- A GC Active or Advanced COP is not automatically 'in accordance' with G4.

Prepare: Define COP Scope Using G4

GRI G4 Principles and guidance for defining report content help define a COP’s material Aspects and boundaries.

Step 2: Describe Practical Actions (COP Minimum Requirement)

• All COPs must describe practical actions (i.e., any relevant policies, procedures, activities) in the 4 issue areas

• GC Advanced COPs must describe management approach in the 4 issue areas, including:
  • Commitments, strategies or policies (Criteria 3, 6, 9, 12)
  • Management systems to integrate the principles (Criteria 4, 7, 10, 13)
  • Monitoring and evaluation mechanisms (Criteria 5, 8, 11, 14)

• GC Advanced COPs must disclose actions in support of broader UN goals and issues (Criteria 15-18)
Step 2: Describe Practical Actions (COP Minimum Requirement)

G4’s Disclosures on Management Approach address this requirement, including:

• Why the Aspect is material and the impacts that make it material

• How the organization manages the material Aspect or its impacts

• Evaluation of the management approach:
  • Mechanisms for evaluating its effectiveness
  • Results of the evaluation
  • Related adjustments
STEP 3: Disclose Results & Outcomes (COP Minimum Requirement)

• All COPs must contain a measurement of outcomes

• GC Advanced COPs must describe key outcomes in each of the four issue areas (Criteria 5, 8, 11, 14 on monitoring and evaluation)

• Consider disclosing G4 Indicators that relate to the four GC issue areas

  • COPs ‘in accordance’ with the G4 Guidelines should additionally report Indicators that belong to any additional material Aspects (the number of required Indicators depends on the chosen ‘in accordance’ option).
