Dear Mr Secretary-General,

I am writing to confirm that Pure Planet Ltd is absolutely committed to the UN Global Compact and its ten principles regarding: human rights; freedom of labour; the environment and anti-corruption.

We are committed to making these principles part of the culture of our newly-launched business - a renewable energy supply company for the British market. We also commit to advancing, in what ways we can, the Sustainable Development Goals. Of particular interest to us are 7. 'affordable and clean energy', 12. 'responsible consumption and production', and 13. 'climate change', and we pledge to engage actively in practices and projects that will strengthen and further these goals. We will be, at all times, transparent and open to the public on our commitment and actions.

We commit to report on the progress of the above within one year of joining the Global Compact, and annually thereafter according to the Global Compact policy. This statement will include:

- a letter from the CEO expressing continued support for the Global Compact and renewing ongoing commitment to the principles;
- a description of practical actions or projects that the company has undertaken in each of the four key areas;
- an honest measurement of the outcome, success, and degree to which targets to further the goals and SDG's were met in the previous year.

Yours sincerely,

Andrew Ralston
CEO & Co-founder
